Overview

Conall Patton KC is renowned for his oral advocacy and cross-examination skills, the elegance of his drafting and his responsiveness to clients. He acts in a broad range of commercial litigation and arbitration disputes, with particular expertise in energy, banking, jurisdiction and choice of law, and competition law. He has acted in the leading cases on redress for fraudulent financial reporting, notably the nine-month Autonomy trial and the Tesco shareholder litigation.

According to Chambers UK Bar 2023, he is an “outstanding and first-class barrister in every respect”, “has utter command of the detail, writes brilliantly and is an effective advocate” and “provides clear, incisive and user-friendly advice”. Legal 500 (2023) describes Conall as a “commanding presence in court” and as “quite simply brilliant – brilliant written work, brilliant advocacy, and brilliant strategic advice”.

Since taking silk, Conall has established himself as a leading advocate and advisor, with a varied practice that spans the Commercial Court, Chancery Division, Competition Appeal Tribunal and international commercial arbitration under a range of institutional rules. He was a member of the working group for the 11th edition of the Commercial Court Guide. He is a trustee of Advocate and co-treasurer of FreeBar.

Notable recent and ongoing cases include:
