Overview

Dan's practice covers the full range of commercial litigation, arbitration, and advisory work. He specialises in complex, high-value disputes, particularly those with international elements. He has substantial experience in the DIFC and ADGM courts.

Before joining chambers, Dan was an associate in the litigation and arbitration group of White & Case (London). While there, he represented a wide range of clients in LCIA and ICC arbitrations across the energy, commercial real estate, and telecommunications sectors.

Before joining White & Case, Dan completed the Oxford BCL, achieving first place in all four of his subjects.

Of Dan's led work, recent highlights include:

- Bourlakova v Bourlakov (ChD)

Acting for the claimants in proceedings against a deceased oligarch and his associates to unravel their attempts to put assets worth billions of dollars beyond the claimants' reach in Monegasque matrimonial and estate proceedings. The claim involves allegations of deceit, forgery, offshore asset misappropriation and the deliberate destruction of evidence. Substantial hearings have included a five-day jurisdiction hearing ([\[2022\] 4 WLR 79](#)) and a three-day amendment and joinder hearing ([\[2023\] EWHC 2233 \(Ch\)](#)), both of which resulted in substantial victories for Dan's clients.

- The Public Institution for Social Security v Al Rajaan (Comm)

- Sterritt v Investec Wealth & Investment Limited (Comm)

The loss of the certificate prevented the claimant from selling the shares before substantial falls in the company's share price.
